CASE STUDY

Medical Writing

Client: Biopharma Startup Client

SITUATION

A startup biopharmaceutical company asked Pearl for assistance with medical writing to prepare for needed publications in support of an upcoming IND approval and launch. The client required assistance composing several pharmacokinetics publications, abstracts and posters.

SOLUTION

Pearl provided a team of medical writers to help the company for 4 months producing a total of 8 publications and 8 abstracts/posters. Pearl led all medical writing activities and worked across a cross functional team at the client to project manage the project including efforts to secure needed references and raw data. Pearl also worked to ensure all publications met journal publishing requirements.

RESULT

Pearl worked closely with the client team, and provided high quality draft publications, abstracts and posters. As a result of Pearl's work, the client exceeded project deadlines, and was extremely pleased with the quality of the writing, and is currently seeking further work with Pearl.
